DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

1. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter.

The claims 1-9 recite no clearly defined practical application of the claimed method or do not draw a conclusion as to the final end result of the mathematical operation being directed toward a practical application. Additionally, the method claims do not fall into either of the “safe harbors” defined in the Guidelines for Computer-Implemented Inventions in that there is no manipulation of measured data representing physical objects or activities to achieve a practical application (pre-computer process activity) or the performance of independent physical acts (post-computer process activity). The examiner submits that the claimed process merely solves a mathematical problem without limitation to a practical application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

1. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. For example, in claims 1 and 6, it is not clear what is meant by “forming a median value of the stored measured values in a time-slot pattern slower than the sampling rate to obtain an averaged signal value”, since there are no clear, specific, and detailed explanation provided in the Specification. “If it is established in step 103 that the number of stored battery voltage values has reached the threshold value, in a subsequent step 104 the median value of the stored measurement values is determined to obtain a battery voltage average value” described at page 3, lines 10-12 of Application’s “Detailed Description” is the only disclosure provided by the Applicants. However, Applicants do not provide any further detailed description of how a median value of the stored measured values can be determined if stored battery voltage values has reached the threshold value, what threshold value stands for, and how a battery voltage average value can be derived based on a determined median value. Applicant is required to disclose a specific and detailed description in response to this action so that the Examiner may understand the claimed invention and make a proper comparison of the invention with pertinent prior art.

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claims 1 and 6, it is not understandable what is meant by “forming a median value of the stored measured values in a time-slot pattern slower than the sampling rate to obtain an averaged signal value”

Drawings

5. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a) because the blank boxes shown should be labeled as to their function, for example: elements 1-4 in Fig. 2, as described in the specification. Any structural detail that is essential for a proper understanding of the disclosed invention should be shown in the drawing. MPEP § 608.02(d). Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as “amended.” If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled “Replacement Sheet” in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claims 1, 2, 4-9, as best understood, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U. S. Patent No.5,079,496 to Pierret et al.

With respect to claims 1, 2, and 4-9, Pierret et al. disclose a method for detecting a signal comprising: measuring the signal at a predefined sampling rate to provide measured values; storing the measured values in a buffer memory; and forming a median value of the stored measured values in a time-slot pattern slower than the sampling rate to obtain an averaged signal value (see col. 2, line 61 to col. 3, lines 54).
